Come All Ye Fair and Tender Maidens

```
              D                G
Come all ye fair  and tender maidens

              D                       Em
Take warning how   you court young men

                 C                    Am
You're like the stars on a summer's morning

              Em   C                   Am
First you appear     and then you're gone.
