

You're No Good

Well, I don't know why I love you like I do

Nobody in the world can get along with you

You got the ways of a devil sleeping in a lion's den

I come home last night you wouldn't even let me in.

Oh sometimes you're as sweet as anybody want to be

Then you get the crazy notion, jumping all over me

Well, you give me the blues, I guess you're satisfied

When you give me the blues I wanna lay down and die.
